Hi!

Thank you for being part of the Growing Up Today Study. We are now in our fourth year! Because many things in your life have probably changed in the past year, we would like to update your information. This year’s questionnaire is A LOT different from last year’s. The diet section is much shorter, and we have added in questions you requested. Please complete the enclosed questionnaire, and send it back to us in the attached envelope.

Please remember that there are no right or wrong answers, and that all the information you provide will remain private. You do not have to answer any questions that you do not want to. But please complete the questionnaire because it helps us learn about young people today.

Thank you again for being part of this study. If you have any questions or comments, please send us an email at guts@channing.harvard.edu, or call Helaine Rockett collect at (617) 525-2279, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Eastern time.

Thanks very much!

Sincerely,

Graham A. Colditz, MD, DrPH

A. Imagine that this ladder pictures how American society is set up.

- At the top of the ladder are the people who are the best off—they have the most money, the highest amount of schooling, and the jobs that bring the most respect.
- At the bottom are people who are the worst off—they have the least money, little or no education, no job or jobs that no one wants or respects.

Now think about your family. Please tell us where you think your family would be on this ladder. Fill in the circle that best represents where your family would be on this ladder.

B. Now assume that the ladder is a way of picturing your school.

- At the top of the ladder are the people in your school with the most respect and the highest standing.
- At the bottom are the people who no one respects and no one wants to hang around with.
